GROUND ROCKED BY DETONATION

Tons of Powder Let Go in Wisconsin Mill.

Town Where Swiss Cheese Is Made Is Threatened With Destruction by Fire.

FIREMAN JUMPS TO DEATH

Kenosha, Wis., May 19.—By the explosion of many tons of powder in the Lafin & Rands powder mills this morning, the entire north shore was thrown into a panic. The ground rocked as if from an earthquake, and by the shocks five great buildings were destroyed. A forest fire of considerable dimensions burned for hours.

At Kenosha, six miles from the scene, windows were shattered and people leaped from their beds in terror. In Section City, 12 miles away, the inhabitants hurried out in the darkness, believing Providence had visited the community with a great disaster. No one was killed.

Clarington, O., May 19.—This town, center of the famous Swiss cheese manufacturing industry in Ohio, was threatened with destruction by fire. This morning a fire started in a grocery and extended to other buildings. The loss is not heavy.

HE SLEPT

AND BURGLARS QUIETLY REMOVED HIS VALUABLES.

Contractor Fields Victim of Night Prowlers Who Are Working All Over City.

Burglars entered the residence of Contractor B. C. (Lum) Fields at Sixteenth and Tennessee streets, last night while he slept and stole his watch, pistol and $14 in cash.

The police have been instructed especially on this beat, to keep a lookout for suspicious characters. It seems that the burglaries are being committed first in one end of the town and then the other, those who are working them evidently being well on their jobs. Negroes are suspected.

MAJOR SAUNDERS

Visits Paducah First Time Since His Accident.

Major George Saunders of Mayfield, and brother-in-law, Mr. L. W. Cosby, are in the city today.

Major Saunders formerly was deputy United States marshal for the district, and left Paducah on the night of January 17. The next morning, while waiting in the depot at Mayfield for a train to Paducah, his pistol accidentally was discharged and the bullet entered his left ankle, necessitating the amputation of the foot. This is his first trip to Paducah since the accident. They will return tonight.

Havana City, May 19.—Architect Laquereta was arrested, charged with responsibility for the collapse of Jose Gener's cigarette factory, in which six persons were killed and a dozen injured.

Flames, Creeping on City, Have Trapped Passengers.

Wausaukee, Wis., May 19.—Wausaukee is hemmed in by forest fires, which slowly are creeping to the city. Millions of feet of lumber are burned.

The loss is estimated at $100,000 at Cedarville. The forest fires destroyed many cars loaded with lumber.

The circulation of The Sun for the month of April was 4,018, a day average. Business instinct tells you that it is the paper that tells its circulation daily that merits your confidence.

MOUNTAIN SINKS.

And Lake Towns Over Site On Island of Philippines.

Manila May 19.—Reports have been received from Bangued, capital of the province of Abra, Luzon, that on May 8, an immense known as Mount Dotala settled out of sight, and that a lake of considerable size was formed in its place. During the transformation there was a terrific noise and an earthquake shook the surrounding country. It is not known whether any lives were lost. Pears are entertained for many natives who lived on the mountain side. At present the natives in the vicinity are in a state of terror.

SIX THOUSAND

PEOPLE MADE HOMELESS BY FOREST FIRES IN MICHIGAN.

Area Covering One Hundred Square Miles Burned Out and Loss Runs Into Millions.

Escanaba, May 19.—Forest fires in Northern Michigan have almost swept clear an area of one hundred square miles. Whether there was any loss of human life, as yet it is impossible to tell. Your correspondent, who spent last night and part of today in the districts, finds the loss to be several million dollars. It was unable to find any loss of life, but he estimates 6,000 people are homeless.

MANY OVERTURES.

For and Against Church Union—Paducah Favors It.

Greenville, S. C., May 19.—The most important subject to come before the Presbyterian general assembly, now in session here, the question of closer relationship between all Presbyterian and Reformed churches was touched upon today when a number of overtures were read, some recommending, others opposing the articles of agreement, adopted by the federation conference of Reformed and Presbyterian churches at the session in Charlotte, N. C., last March. There were overtures from the Presbyteries of Paducah, Northern Alabama, Arkansas, Mobile, Eastern Alabama, Louisville, Savannah, Knoxville, Ebenezer and upper Missouri approving the adoption of the articles.

The following Presbyteries opposed the adoption: Greenbrier, Macon, Mullensburg, Chesapeake and Winchester.

PARDON

Issued for Man Who Keeps Faith With a Woman.

Jackson, Miss., May 19.—"I will write pardons for a man who has acted as he has as long as pen and paper lasts and until my act should happen to conflict with the law."

With this dramatic remark Governor Vardaman placed his signature to the documents that will enable Dr. M. F. Rogers, a physician of New Albany, to escape a sentence of imprisonment and payment of fine. Rogers was sentenced to imprisonment for refusing to answer questions in Judge Booth's court. He gave as his reason that he had pledged his word of secrecy to a woman who had given him the information.

WOULD UNDO TRADE IN WIVES.

Three Parties to Southern Illinois Mix-Up Willing, One Objects.

St. Louis, May 19.—Fred L. Jackson, the laborer who traded wives with Theodore M. Mosby, the Shelby county, Illinois, farmer, wants to trade back. Mosby is willing. Mrs. Mosby, his pretty wife, 29 years old, is willing. But Mrs. Jackson, 40 years old, a grandmother, decidedly objects. She says that if she ever returns to Jackson it will be as a hired housekeeper, in order to afford means of support for the children.

Unconscious and May Not Survive the Day.

Has Been Ill of Inflammatory Rheumatism a Week but Crisis Came Yesterday.

FORMERLY WAS STATE AUDITOR

Mr. Gus Coulter, formerly state auditor, is lying at his home in Mayfield, Ky., precariously ill, and may not survive the day.

Mr. Coulter was taken ill of inflammatory rheumatism several days ago, but did not seem to be dangerously ill until yesterday. In fact, his friends never suspected his illness to be serious until last night when he became unconscious and nearly died.

Dr. E. C. Stevens, the family physician, was summoned and with other doctors administered to Mr. Coulter. He has shown no betterment and his condition is given out by Dr. Stevens as hopeless.

This afternoon he was reported still unconscious and may not last through the day.

Thirty strike breakers were taken into Plum Run under cover of the darkness. More are said to be coming.

HORSE STEALING

CHARGE AGAINST "BUD" HELM, A NATIVE OF BARDWELL.

Animal Belonging to O. C. Black Found by Pursuers, Who Later Came Upon Prisoner.

"Bud" Helm, of Bardwell, Ky., was arrested this morning near Bardana, Ky., by Ballard county authorities for the alleged theft of a horse and buggy, and has been taken to Wickliffe pending trial.

O. C. Black, of Bardwell, missed his horse and instituted a search. The horse was traced to a point near Barlow and then lost. Later a resident of Barlow lost a buggy and the authorities got trace of both horse and buggy and were hot on the trail of the thief.

Near Woodville the vehicle was abandoned and was found there yesterday afternoon. The thief had lost himself in the woods, but the authorities kept after him and this morning caught Helm, who, it is said, answers the description of the man seen driving the horse along the route the thief is supposed to have taken.

Helm protests his innocence but will be tried and given a chance to prove it.

STREET CAR MEN

WIFE COULDN'T KEEP SECRET.

St. Louis Man Asks Divorce Because She "Gave Away" His Business.

St. Louis, May 19.—Justice P. Siebert based his claim for a divorce from Emma Siebert today on the inability of the woman to keep a secret. He said he started in business for himself in Milwaukee, but was ruined because his wife continually talked "shop" giving away his secrets to her brothers, who were in the same line. Judge McElhinney will deliver an opinion on the case Monday.

FORTY YEARS FOR $16.49.

Member of Crew of Gunboat in Civil War Awarded Prize Money.

Bau Claire, Wis., May 19.—Elbridge C. Jordan, who was in the federal service on the United States gunboat Pontiac during the civil war, received notice from the treasury department that he had been allowed $16.49 as his share of prize money for the capture of a Confederate gunboat on the Savannah river in 1865.

BY A HAIR

VERDICT WAS CHANGED FROM DISMISSAL TO LUNACY.

Country Girl Once Released Again Tried by Jury With About Same Evidence.

A few locks of hair caused Halle Walton, a eighteen-year-old girl of the county, to be adjudged a lunatic this morning in the circuit court.

The girl several months ago, was brought to the city and tried for lunacy. The evidence showed that she manifested a ravenous appetite and went to the pantry dozens of times daily to procure food. She ate all day long, it was stated. Another peculiarity of the girl was in dress, persisting in changing her dress several times daily. Still another action which aroused the suspicions of her family and neighbors as to her mental condition was her habit of running to neighboring farms and remaining a minute or two, only to leave for a brief visit to another farm.

The evidence was heard and after deliberation the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The girl was returned home but brought in again for trial this morning.

The same evidence was introduced with one additional proof—the girl had cut off her hair. The evidence is said to differ not at all from that of the former arraignment except the girl had seized scissors and "whacked off her hair," as one of the witnesses expressed it.

The jury was out a few minutes, returning a verdict of lunacy. The girl will be taken to the asylum at once by a relative.

STORM CELLARS.

ON DELIVERY WAGON NEW BISHOP TIGERT GOT HIS TRAINING

Louisville, May 19.—From the driver of a grocery wagon to a Methodist bishopric is a far reach, yet this has come to Rev. Dr. John J. Tigert of this city, who was elevated to the episcopacy of the Methodist Episcopal church south.

Dr. Tigert is the son of J. J. Tigert, a pump contractor, and the young man had to surrender his earlier educational opportunities to the demands of home. During his service as grocery driver young Tigert was a regular attendant at the Broadway Street Methodist church. His earnestness attracted the attention of the then pastor, Rev. Dr. R. H. Rivers, who gave the boy private instructions and prepared him for Vanderbilt University, where he obtained his education.

THREE RECORDED AGAINST MEASURE

Rate Bill Passes Senate After Seventy Days.

Senators Tillman and Dolliver Give President Credit for Securing Legislation.

THE SMOOT CASE IS POSTPONED

Washington, D. C., May 19.—After 70 days of almost continuous deliberation the senate yesterday late passed the railroad rate bill by practically a unanimous vote of 71 to 3. The three negative votes were cast by Foraker, Republican, of Ohio, and Morgan and Pettus, Democrats, of Alabama.

From March 12 to May 4 the bill was under general discussion without limitation or duration of speeches, 58 of which were delivered. Many of these were prepared with great care and two consumed more than a day's time in delivery. La Follette, the junior senator from Wisconsin, spoke three days, and Daniels, of Virginia two days. Bailey, Foraker, Lodge, Raynor, Dolliver and others, each spoke for one entire day. For 12 days the bill has been under consideration under a rule limiting speeches to fifteen minutes each. Credit to Roosevelt.

The feature of the closing debate on the bill in the senate were references made by Tillman and Tillman, two leaders of opposing political parties, to the part President Roosevelt took in bringing about the passage of the act.

"Whatever may be said for, or against the president," Dolliver said, "he comes out of the fight with every proposition he has advanced written in plain terms in the statute books of the United States. The bill is a perfect response to the president's recommendations."

When Tillman took the floor, after announcing his intention to vote for the bill as "the best he could get," he entered upon the task of acknowledging the instrumentality of the president in securing the legislation. He came bluntly to the point, saying: "But for the work of Theodore Roosevelt in bringing this matter to the attention of the country we would not have had any bill at all. It is true the idea was not his and that a demand for such legislation was made in three Democratic platforms; nevertheless he seized upon the idea and the success of the issue is largely due to his advocacy. I congratulate him on his victory, but I think we should have had a better bill."

Washington, May 19.—The senate committee on privileges and elections postponed its meeting for a vote on the Senator Smoot case until Monday.

TAKES LIBERTY

TO WHICH HE IS ENTITLED, DOES YELTEMA.

Saws Bars of Jail at Lexington and Makes His Escape From Custody of Commonwealth.

Lexington, Ky., May 19.—Richard Yeltama sawed the bars and escaped from jail last night. Yeltama really was entitled to his liberty but was neglected by the commonwealth. He turned state's evidence in the case of Charles Williams who was sent to the penitentiary for robbery. Yeltama claimed to be from Paducah.

Well Known Here.

The above dispatch from Lexington will recall the arrest of Yeltama here. The boy is a harnessmaker apprentice and was born and raised in Paducah. He had been in Chattanooga and en route home stopped over in Lexington for a few days. He was "hoboing" and met Williams and several others. They robbed a stranger one night in the woods while the three were sitting about a camp fire. Yeltama was arrested here a few days after and returned readily, agreeing to turn state's evidence. He disclaimed being implicated, saying Williams committed the robbery and that he simply watched operations. Yeltama got one year in the penitentiary for being implicated. He has relatives residing in Paducah.

Frick's Assault Free.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 19.—After thirteen years and eight months in prison, Alexander Berkman, the anarchist, who tried to kill Henry C. Frick during the Homestead strike of 1892, will be released from the Allegheny county workhouse tomorrow morning at 8:20 o'clock.

THE WEATHER.

BIG BARBECUE PLANNED.

To Be Given to Home-Coming Kentuckians At Madisonville.

Madisonville, Ky., May 19.—Madisonville is not to be behind in the way of entertaining her sons and daughters who will return to their native state in June. There are over 800 Hopkins countians who have signed their intention of returning to Kentucky in June, and in order to properly entertain them after the general reunion at Louisville, when many are expected to spend a few days in their native county, a committee is now at work arranging a program that will interest and entertain the home-comers.

BEFORE MIDNIGHT

SALOONS IN PADUCAH WILL BE COMPELLED TO CLOSE.

Ordinance Fixing Time at 11:30 O'Clock Has Been Agreed Upon, It Is Said.

A closing ordinance for Paducah saloons is a possibility of the near future, if the report is true. It is stated on good authority that the ordinance committee Monday night will be instructed to bring in a measure, providing for closing saloons between the hours of 11:30 p. m. and 5 a. m. Such a course practically has been decided on and it is believed a majority of the councilmen and aldermen will support it.

NOT KNOWN HERE.

Louisville Police Asked to Search for Harry Barry.

Louisville, Ky., May 19.—Colonel Sebastian Gunther, chief of police, today received a letter from Mrs. Harry Barry, of Paducah, requesting the police to make a search for her husband in Louisville. He is said to have been missing from home in Paducah two weeks. Barry is a brick layer.

The above telegram was received from Louisville today but the city directory shows no such person. It is thought that he is an itinerant tradesman, who has been in Paducah but a short time. He is unknown to most of the prominent brick layers here.

STAND COLLAPSES.

Five Commissioners to Assemble Are Seriously Hurt.

Des Moines, Ia., May 19.—Five commissioners to the Presbyterian general assembly were bruised and injured late this afternoon by the collapse of a temporary stand which had been erected for the purpose of getting a group photograph. The injured are Dr. C. Lukins, Roswell, N. M., hip bruised; Rev. W. O. David, Monongahela, W. Va., hip bruised; George Wills, Mendota, Ill., back bruised; Rev. J. M. McGaughey, Charleston, Ia., leg sprained; Rev. W. C. Buell, Taos, N. M., back bruised.

Mr. David is the most seriously hurt and is under a physician's care today. The other victims will be able to resume their seats in the assembly tomorrow, it is believed.

Methodists Elect.

Birmingham, Ala., May 19.—Dr. Gross Alexander, presiding elder of the Louisville district, was elected book editor, vice Dr. J. J. Tigert. He was professor of systematic theology in Vanderbilt University and pastor in charge of the West End Methodist church of Nashville. Dr. John R. Nelson, of Texas, seems to be a sure tip for assistant secretary of missions, vice Dr. Seth Ward, elected bishop. Dr. G. B. Winton, editor of the Christian Advocate, was re-elected to that position.

Child Hero.

Wilson Long, eight years old, yesterday saved Herman Allen, a boy companion, from drowning in the Kentucky river, near Frankfort.

Pope Stricken With Attack of Heart Failure, Is Better.

Rome, May 19.—The Pope was stricken with a sudden attack of heart failure this morning. Dr. Lapponi, physician to the vatican, was summoned. The physician administered restoratives, after which the pope revived. The doctor ordered his holiness to take a complete rest. The pontiff's condition, while not alarming, is causing his entourage uneasiness.

WILL ELECT FOUR OFFICERS MONDAY

Joint Councilmanic Board Holds Important Session.

Weigh Master, Hospital Directors and Meat and Milk Inspector to Be Named.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS CHOICES

One of the most important meetings of the general council as a committee of the whole will take place Monday night when the joint boards will elect a city weigh master, vice the late Mendall W. Johnson; two members of the board of directors of the Riverside hospital, and a city meat and milk inspector.

The death of Mr. Johnson makes way for his opponent at the time Mr. Johnson was elected weigh master. R. H. McGuire has the call for the place and will be elected probably without opposition, as he is the choice of the Republican caucus.

The terms of Drs. J. D. Robertson and Frank Boyd, as members of the hospital board expire this spring and it is understood that Dr. Boyd will be re-elected. Dr. Robertson will not be a candidate and he will be succeeded by Dr. H. P. Sights.

Dr. C. G. Warner will not succeed himself as meat and milk inspector, but Dr. Edward Farley who was the choice of the Republican caucus, will be elected Monday night.

To Hear Complaints.

Instead of outlining a saloon districts within which all saloons must be situated in order to secure licenses this summer, the members of the general council will take up each application and investigate it thoroughly before granting a license. If reasonable objection is made to the location of a saloon in a certain neighborhood that license will be refused by the joint boards. In this way the members of the general council believe more good can be legally accomplished than by the doubtful method of drawing the license arbitrarily on liquor houses.

FIGHTS BURGLAR

CHARLES RUSSELL'S COLLAR BONE BROKEN BY NEGRO.

Several Frankfort Houses Entered—Police Succeeded in Capturing One Man.

Frankfort, Ky., May 19.—Burglars entered the residence of Dr. U. V. Williams last night about 10 o'clock through the rear of the house. The family had not retired and Charles Russell, a boarder, hearing a noise, went to a back room, where he lighted a match and encountered a negro. In attempting to hold the negro, a fight ensued in the dark. Russell was knocked down and his collar bone broken. The burglar lost his hat and bloodhounds were placed on his trail.

Burglars were discovered attempting to enter the residence of Mrs. E. M. Nell. A man giving the name of Frank Simpson, claiming to be from Baltimore, was captured while attempting to rob a house in Thorne Hill. The police believe that a regular gang is here attempting to "dog" the city.

TEMPERANCE FORCES WON

BY A MAJORITY OF ONE
Hickman, Ky., May 18.—After an exceedingly acrimonious contest, the temperance people carried the election at Columbus by a vote of 123 to 122. The license faction will contest.

The badly crippled Indians led by Tadlock, with a sore arm, attempted to "do" the Mud Wallowers at Sportsman park in Cairo yesterday and the result was a shut out for the Indians, the first of the season; but it is some consolation to feel that the Indians were first to shut out the Cairo team.

Tadlock was not in shape, and this can be seen by the seven hits, three three-baggers and a pair of doubles secured off him. Another factor in the defeat of the Indians was the absence of Nippert and Gilligan from the game. Ames played bad second and Taylor was substituted. The infield is torn up and the Indians crippled badly, but intend to give the Mud Wallowers a run for their money the remainder of the games. Today Nippert will be in the game and Gilligan, too, it is thought. "Gill" says he will play Sunday if he has to take up plates to keep him going.

The Indians intend to take Sunday's game.

The summary of yesterday's game shows that Haas, the "punk" hitter, as he is dubbed by "His Jaggs," M. J. Farnbaker, former secretary of the Kitty league, batted 500 yesterday, getting two out of four times at bat, and two of the three hits made. They must have been mighty clean ones to be gotten in Cairo.

Groans From the Mourners.
We notice that Chenault did his usual stunt of letting a ball or two get by him. One score came in this way and two more on errors from other parts of the infield.

We are not kidding. Just wait until our team gets together again.

There will be fully 1,000 from Paducah to go to Cairo tomorrow by rail and river.

It now stands 2 and 2, each team having taken an equal number of games from the other.

Tries 201 Times! Finally Succeeds.
Pittsburg, Pa., May 19.—John Rinnaman, aged 47, succeeded today when he made his 201st attempt at suicide. For ten years he has tried almost every method known. When he attempted to drown, some one dragged him out. He took overdoses of poison and was pumped out; his revolver shots always struck a bone and glanced off. He attempted gas, but it only caused him to swell horribly and spoiled his appetite. He was finally sent to the insane department of the Allegheny county hospital, where he was kept in a strait-jacket.

This morning he manufactured a rope of the strait jacket, out of which he managed to wriggle, and hanged himself from a window sill. When the attendants found him there was a seeming smile of contentment upon his distorted countenance.

GUTTERS RUN RED WITH COSTLY WINE

Late Speaker Henderson's Widow Empties Bottles.

"Dram Shop in Cellar" Will No Longer Disturb Conscience of Mrs. Henderson.

RECHABITES ARE IN ELEMENT

Washington, May 19.—The gutters literally ran red with wine and other intoxicating liquors last evening, in the immediate vicinity of Henderson castle, the petresque home of former United States Senator John B. Henderson, of Missouri, on the heights overlooking this city. Hundreds of cobwebby bottles, containing wines of rare old vintage, imported whiskies and brandies, cordials and other beverages galore, the entire contents of the Henderson wine cellar, valued at thousands, were smashed and the contents allowed to flow through the nearby gutters to the sewer.

The destruction of the wine was accompanied by ceremonies and several interesting incidents. Those who wrought the destruction, by permission of Mrs. Henderson, who stood smilingly by while it was accomplished, were men and women, members of the Independent order of Rechabites, headed by High Chief Ruler Wayne W. Cordell.

Mrs. Henderson said:

"There has been a bit of a burden on my mind these last three years about what to do with a dramshop down in our cellar. Previous to that time we had been accustomed to serving wines and liquors, supposing that people in general were not physically strong enough to fully enjoy themselves at dinner without something in the way of a poison stimulant. I began to think it a pity that our young men and women should be tempted to the temptations of a dramshop every time they accept an invitation to a social function, and so it happened that three years ago we concluded to shut up that dramshop in our cellar."

A NOTRE DAME LADY'S APPEAL.

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism whether muscular or of the joints, sciatic, lumbar, backache, pains in the kidneys, neuralgia, to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these tortures. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers FREE. You cure yourself at home as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purifies the blood and brightens the eyes, giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. If the above interests you, for proof address Mrs. M. Summers, Box 46, Notre Dame, Ind.

Yesterday's Results.

Cairo, 7; Paducah, 0.
Danville, 5; Mattoon, 2.
Vincennes, 3; Jacksonville, 0.

The badly crippled Indians led by Tadlock, with a sore arm, attempted to "do" the Mud Wallowers at Sportsman park in Cairo yesterday and the result was a shut out for the Indians, the first of the season; but it is some consolation to feel that the Indians were first to shut out the Cairo team.

Tadlock was not in shape, and this can be seen by the seven hits, three three-baggers and a pair of doubles secured off him. Another factor in the defeat of the Indians was the absence of Nippert and Gilligan from the game. Ames played bad second and Taylor was substituted. The infield is torn up and the Indians crippled badly, but intend to give the Mud Wallowers a run for their money the remainder of the games. Today Nippert will be in the game and Gilligan, too, it is thought. "Gill" says he will play Sunday if he has to take up to keep him going.

The Indians intend to take Sunday's game.

The summary of yesterday's game shows that Haas, the "punk" hitter, as he is dubbed by "His Jaggs," M. J. Parnbaker, former secretary of the Kitty League, batted 500 yesterday, getting two out of four times at bat, and two of the three hits made. They must have been mighty clean ones to be gotten in Cairo.

Grooms From the Mourners.
We notice that Chenault did his usual stunt of letting a bull or two get by him. One score came in this way and two more on errors from other parts of the infield.

We are not kidding. Just wait until our team gets together again. There will be fully 1,000 from Paducah to go to Cairo tomorrow by rail and river.

It now stands 2 and 2, each team having taken an equal number of games from the other.

Big Freddie Miller will probably throw them at the Tadpoles Sunday. South is slated today for the slab.

The Week In Society.

A SPRINGTIME LOVE.

Oh, morning skies were fair and blue in spring's sweet singing season,
And happiness we idly sought with all youth's fond unreason;
In gardens gay our joy we met, and found in flowerful closes
The love that came with the daffodils—and went away with the roses.

For soon the joyous springtime passed and left our dream Elysian
Only a fancy unfulfilled, only a fleeting vision;
And dead beneath the immortelles of Memory repose
The love that came with the daffodils—and went away with the roses.

Announcements.

Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory is the hostess of the Five Hundred club on Wednesday afternoon at her home, Rustic Hall, Gregory Place.

The Matinee Musical club will have the final meeting for the season on Wednesday afternoon at the Eagles Home on Broadway. The program will be miscellaneous composers and Mrs. William Gray and Miss Courtie Puryear are the leaders. An attractive program has been arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Boone will entertain the As You Like It club on Friday evening at their home on South Sixth street.

The Social Calendar.

The week has been quiet socially, as much so as if mid-winter Lent or midsummer had forced a distinct pause in life's merry-go-round. The passing of the literary clubs has left unsightly spaces on the social calendar that nothing else has come to fill, and some of the card clubs seem to have laid down their hands and forgotten to take them up again. In fact, Society, like a woman's wardrobe, is in a transition stage just now, and she has not adjusted herself to the climatic changes demanded, or something.

For the coming week there is little announced but much is pending, and the presence of a number of visitors in the city will contribute doubtless to the materialization of some of the entertainments planned.

Complimentary to Mrs. Nettleroth.
Mrs. James M. Buckner's card party on Thursday afternoon was a pretty compliment to her daughter and guest, Mrs. Herman Nettleroth, of Louisville.

The Buckner home on Jefferson street is one of the spacious, old-time southern mansions, and the eighteen tables gave no effect of crowding. A color-scheme of green and white was prettily emphasized throughout the rooms, with white carnations, ferns and palms. The prizes were in keeping with this summer effect and the tallies were green and white.

Miss Corlie Grundy won the game prize, a dainty white embroidered parasol. The lone hand prize, a handsome painted, ivory-spoke fan, was taken by Mrs. W. A. Gardner. A pretty picture went to the guest of honor, Mrs. Nettleroth.

An attractive luncheon, with the salad course, the ices and cakes all a charming symphony in green and white, was served after the game.

Five Hundred Club.

Mrs. John W. Keller entertained the Five Hundred club on Wednesday afternoon at her home on West Broadway. Mrs. John C. Roth, of Chicago, the guest of Mrs. Joseph L. Friedman, was the honoree of the occasion. It was a flower party and was a charming affair. The rooms were most attractively arranged with a profusion of the spring flowers, and each guest was presented with a dainty basket of flowers, carrying out some especial design.

Mrs. L. A. Washington won the club prize, Miss Caroline Sowell captured the visitors' prize and presented it to the out-of-town guests, Miss Josephine Gardner, of Quogue, L. I., winning it in the cut. Mrs. John C. Roth was given an especial guest-of-honor prize. A pretty luncheon carrying out the flower-effect was served.

ed at the close of the game. Besides the club members and the substitute visitors, there were present the following out-of-town guests:

Mrs. John C. Roth, of Chicago; Mrs. James Black, of Terre Haute; Mrs. Oscar Hicks, of Macon, Ga.; Mrs. M. J. Dunn, of Macon, Ga.; Miss Gardner, of Quogue, L. I.

Informal Reception to Visitors.

A pleasant social feature of the Kentucky Diocesan Council, was the reception given on Wednesday evening by the members of Grace Episcopal church at the Parish House in honor of the visitors.

The guild hall and parlors of the Parish House were prettily decorated with spring roses and peonies, and were crowded during the evening. Delightful frappe, ices, strawberries and cake were served. Many distinguished notables of the Episcopal church in Kentucky were present, and men and women prominent in Kentucky's business and social life.

Missionary Tea.

A very delightful and fresco Missionary Tea was given on Thursday afternoon at "The Ferns," the home of Mrs. Elbridge Palmer on Clark street, by the Woman's Auxiliary of Grace Episcopal church. It was in compliment to the visiting Woman Auxiliaries of the Diocesan Council.

Two especial features of interest were the delightful addresses of Mrs. Charles E. Woodcock, of Louisville, on "The Work of the Auxiliary," and an interesting resume of "Missionary Life in Canada" by Mrs. Arthur E. Watham, of Louisville.

It was a prettily-planned out-of-door affair, and was a pleasant social occasion, with refreshments attractively served on the lawn after the regular program. The men of the council were present after the adjournment of their business session at the church.

Lawn Party to Visitors.

Miss Irene Curd, at her home at Broadway and Seventh street, gave a lawn party on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Vera Conn and Miss Cassie Conn of Russellville, Ky., the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Covington. The lawn was effectively decorated with Japanese lanterns, and ices were served during the evening. The guests included:

Misses Vera Conn, Cassie Conn, Edna Eades, Annie Eades, Cora Richardson, Cora Dunlap, Lola Konezka, Jamie Browder, Birdie Curd, Odie Puryear, Leitha Puryear, Messrs. Oswald Cheek, Frank Cheek, Rolly Graham, Gordon Tanner, Ed Curd, Paul Barnes, John Curd, Melville Byrd, Cooper Drake, George Cabell, Sutton, Jim Drake, Robert Browder, George Halliday, Lorenzo Emery.

Party to Cairo.

Mrs. Bertie F. Campbell was the hostess of a pleasant party on the Dick Fowler Monday, that accompanied Mrs. Charles A. Mohr and Mrs. Georgia K. Gage, of Mobile, Ala., as far as Cairo en route to their home. Mrs. Gage and Mrs. Mohr have been the guests of Mrs. Campbell for ten days and were the recipients of much social attention during their visit here. The party included: Mrs. Laura Fowler, Mrs. George C. Wallace, Mrs. J. M. Buckner, Mrs. Hal Corbett, Mrs. A. R. Meyers, Mrs. W. A. Gardner, Mrs. Charles Mohr, Mrs. Georgia Gage, Mrs. Bertie Campbell.

Home Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Cecil Nelson and Mr. Frederick Clarke Lang, of this city, on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock was a pretty home wedding, marked by quiet simplicity. The apartment was attractively decorated with spring flowers. The bride wore a stylish traveling costume of grey cloth trimmed with green. Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D., of the First Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. Only the family and most intimate friends of the popular young couple were present.

The couple left at 6:15 on a northern bridal tour and will be at home after June 1, at Flat B in the Cochran Apartments on North Ninth street.

Al Fresco Musical.

The Young People's society of the First Christian church will give an al fresco recital on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. M. K. Scott on South Fourth street. The lawn will be attractively arranged with platform, and Japanese lanterns will add to the picturesqueness of the effect. Some of the most notable musical talent of the city will take part, and one of the features of interest will be a reading by Mrs. James Young, (Miss Flora May Clark), who is at home for the summer.

Crescendo Club Recital.

Miss Virginia Newell's class recital will take place on Tuesday evening at 622 Broadway. It is an invitation affair, and the program is an exceptionally fine one. It will consist largely of two piano and 8-hand work. Only the advanced pupils will have solo parts. The Empire Flats music store will be arranged into a miniature concert hall for the occasion and it will be Miss Newell's first public class entertainment.

The ensemble piano program is: Brahms Hungarian dance, No. 6.

Those present were: Elizabeth Welmer, Mildred Pieper, May Bonds, Maggie Fiegele, Katherine Tarrell, Marion Pieper, Ida Lee Stegar and Blanche Anderson.

The club will meet with Miss Marian Pieper next Friday evening, at her home corner S. 2th and Trimble streets.

Delightful Dance.

The younger society set gave a enjoyable dance last evening at the Elks' hall. About fifteen couples were present and the occasion was a most pleasant one.

About People.

Miss May Phelps, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Anne Rhea, of Nashville, Tenn., arrived this week and are the guests of Miss Henrietta Koger, of Jefferson street. Both are charming girls and very popular in Paducah where they have visited before. They will be the recipients of much social attention while here.

Miss Marie Scovel, of Montgomery, Ala., and Miss Frances Harris, of Nashville, are expected the latter part of the coming week to visit Miss Henrietta Koger.

Mrs. Victor Voris and little daughter Elsie Eunice left this week for a two weeks' stay at Dawson Springs. Mr. Will Scott will leave Tuesday for Nashville, Tenn., to attend the commencement exercises at Ward's Seminary, where Miss Mary Scott will graduate. The recital will be held on Tuesday evening and the commencement on the 29th. Miss Mary Scott will be graduated both in music and the regular curriculum and is the second pupil to complete both courses together.

Nicaragua Is Easy.

According to Consul Ryder, the president of Nicaragua has just given a remarkable concession for ten years at $160 (gold) per year. The concessionaire is privileged to have a collector in the customhouse at Bluefields Harbor, through whose hands all shipments of rubber must pass, and he is allowed to tax it 10 cents a pound over and above the government tax of 5 cents a pound. It is estimated that the annual shipment of rubber from this district is 500,000 pounds, giving the concessionaire a revenue of $50,000 a year, or $500,000 for the period of his contract, although it is not to cost him more, than $1,600 for the ten years.

Why take a dozen things to cure that cough? Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar allays the congestion, stops that tickling, drives the cold out through your bowels. Sold by Lang Bros.

Reply Evasive.

The London Times correspondent at Pekin telegraphs that the Chinese foreign office's reply to the British note relative to the customs edict is wholly unsatisfactory, evasive and impossible of acceptance.

When Women Suffer

It is a sign of dangerous weakness and disease. WINE OF CARDUI Woman's Relief

"My back ached every month" writes Mrs. Francis J. Ashburn of Clarkrange, Tenn., "till I could scarcely stand on my feet. I had pain low down and headache—not a day without it—and awful pain in my right and left sides. I could hardly lie down, and could not sleep nights. Doctors tried, but failed to give me permanent relief. I began to take Cardui, which soon benefited me, and now I feel like a new person." Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy, for all female diseases. It acts gently and specifically upon the sick womanly organs, and by strengthening and fitting them to do their natural work, it has restored to health thousands of hopeless invalids. Try it.

The Week In Society.

A-SPRINGTIME LOVE.

Oh, morning skies were fair and blue in spring's sweet singing season, And happiness we idly sought with all youth's fond unreason: In gardens gay our joy we met, and found in flowerful closes The love that came with the daffodils—and went away with the roses.

For soon the joyous springtime passed and left our dream Elysian Only a fancy unfulfilled, only a fleeting vision; And dead beneath the immortelles of Memory reposes The love that came with the daffodils—and went away with the roses. —Carolyn Wells in May Smart Set

Announcements.

Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory is the hostess of the Five Hundred Club on Wednesday afternoon at her home Rustic Hall, Gregory Place.

The Matinee Musical club will have the final meeting for the season on Wednesday afternoon at the Eagles Home on Broadway. The program will be miscellaneous composers and Mrs. William Gray and Miss Courtie Puryear are the leaders. An attractive program has been arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Boone will entertain the As You Like It club on Friday evening at their home on South Sixth street.

The Social Calendar.

The week has been quiet socially, as much so as if mid-winter Lent or mid-summer heat had forced a distinct pause in life's merry-go-round. The passing of the literary clubs has left unsightly spaces on the social calendar that nothing else has come to fill, and some of the card clubs seem to have laid down their hands and forgotten to take them up again. In fact, Society, like a woman's wardrobe, is in a transition stage just now, and she has not adjusted herself to the climatic changes demanded, or something.

For the coming week there is little announced but much is pending, and the presence of a number of visitors in the city will contribute doubtless to the materialization of some of the entertainments planned.

Complimentary to Mrs. Nettleroth.

Mrs. James M. Buckner's card party on Thursday afternoon was a pretty compliment to her daughter and guest, Mrs. Herman Nettleroth, of Louisville.

The Buckner home on Jefferson street is one of the spacious, old-time southern mansions, and the eighteen tables gave no effect of crowding. A color-scheme of green and white was prettily emphasized throughout the rooms, with white carnations, ferns and palms. The prizes were in keeping with this summer effect and the tables were green and white.

Miss Cornie Grundy won the game prize, a dainty white embroidered parasol. The lone hand prize, a handsome painted, ivory-spoke fan, was taken by Mrs. W. A. Gardner. A pretty picture went to the guest of honor, Mrs. Nettleroth.

An attractive luncheon, with the salad course, the tea and cakes, all a charming symphony in green and white, was served after the game.

Five Hundred Club.

Mrs. John W. Keller entertained the Five Hundred Club on Wednesday afternoon at her home on West Broadway. Mrs. John C. Roth, of Chicago, the guest of Mrs. Joseph L. Friedman, was the honoree of the occasion. It was a flower party and was a charming affair. The rooms were most attractively arranged with a profusion of the spring flowers, and each guest was presented with a dainty basket of flowers, carrying out some special design.

Mrs. L. A. Washington won the club prize. Miss Caroline Sowell captured the visitors' prize and presented it to the out-of-town guests, Miss Josephine Gardner, of Quogue, L. I., winning it in the cut. Mrs. John C. Roth was given an especial guest-of-honor prize. A pretty luncheon carrying out the flower-effect was served.

ed at the close of the game. Besides the club members and the substitute visitors, there were present the following out-of-town guests:

Mrs. John C. Roth, of Chicago, Mrs. James Black, of Terre Haute; Mrs. Oscar Hicks, of Macon, Ga.; Mrs. M. J. Dunn, of Macon, Ga.; Miss Gardner, of Quogue, L. I.

Informal Reception to Visitors.

A pleasant social feature of the Kentucky Diocesan Council, was the reception given on Wednesday evening by the members of Grace Episcopal church at the Parish House in honor of the visitors.

The guild hall and parlors of the Parish House were prettily decorated with spring roses and peonies, and were crowded during the evening. Delightful frappe, ices, strawberries and cake were served. Many distinguished notables of the Episcopal church in Kentucky were present, and men and women prominent in Kentucky's business and social life.

Missionary Tea.

A very delightful all fresco Missionary Tea was given on Thursday afternoon at "The Ferns," the home of Mrs. Elbridge Palmer on Clark street, by the Woman's Auxiliary of Grace Episcopal church. It was in compliment to the visiting Woman Auxiliaries of the Diocesan Council.

Two special features of interest were the delightful addresses of Mrs. Charles E. Woodcock, of Louisville, on "The Work of the Auxiliary," and an interesting resume of "Missionary Life in Canada" by Mrs. Arthur E. Watham, of Louisville.

It was a prettily-planned out-of-door affair, and was a pleasant social occasion, with refreshments attractively served on the lawn after the regular program. The men of the council were present after the adjournment of their business session at the church.

Lawn Party to Visitors.

Miss Irene Curd, at her home at Broadway and Seventh street, gave a lawn party on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Vera Conn and Miss Cassie Conn of Russellville, Ky., the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Covington. The lawn was effectively decorated with Japanese lanterns, and ices were served during the evening. The guests included:

Misses Vera Conn, Cassie Conn, Edna Eades, Annie Eades, Cora Richardson, Cora Dunlap, Iola Konetzka, Jamie Browder, Birdie Curd, Odie Puryear, Letha Puryear, Messrs. Rossy Cheek, Frank Cheek, O. W. Graham, Gordon Tanner, Ed Curd, Paul Barnes, John Curd, Melville Byrd, Cooper Drake, George Cabell, Sutton, Jim Drake, Robert Browder, George Halliday, Lorenzo Emery.

Party to Cairo.

Mrs. Bertie F. Campbell was the hostess of a pleasant party on the Dick Fowler Monday, that accompanied Mrs. Charles A. Mohr and Mrs. Georgia K. Gage, of Mobile, Ala., as far as Cairo en route to their home. Mrs. Gage and Mrs. Mohr have been the guests of Mrs. Campbell for ten days and were the recipients of much social attention during their visit here. The party included: Mrs. Laura Fowler, Mrs. George C. Wallace, Mrs. J. M. Buckner, Mrs. Hal Corbett, Mrs. A. R. Meyers, Mrs. W. A. Gardner, Mrs. Charles Mohr, Mrs. Georgia K. Gage, Mrs. Bertie Campbell.

Home Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Cecil Nelson and Mr. Frederick Clarke Lang, of this city, on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock was a pretty home wedding, marked by quiet simplicity. The apartment was attractively decorated with spring flowers. The bride wore a stylish traveling costume of grey cloth trimmed with green. Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D., of the First Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. Only the family and most intimate friends of the popular young couple were present.

The couple left at 6:15 on a northern bridal tour and will be at home after June 1, at Flat B in the Cochran Apartments on North Ninth street.

At Fresco Musical.

The Young People's society of the First Christian church will give an all fresco recital on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. M. K. Scott on South Fourth street. The lawn will be attractively arranged with platform, and Japanese lanterns will add to the picturesqueness of the effect. Some of the most notable musical talent of the city will take part, and one of the features of interest will be a reading by Mrs. James Young, (Miss Flora May Clark), who is at home for the summer.

Crescendo Club Recital.

Miss Virginia Newell's class recital will take place on Tuesday evening at 6:22 Broadway. It is an invitation affair, and the program is an exceptionally fine one. It will consist largely of two piano and 8-hand work. Only the advanced pupils will have solo parts. The Empire Flats music store will be arranged into a miniature concert hall for the occasion and it will be Miss Newell first public class entertainment.

The ensemble piano program is: Brahms Hungarian dance, No. 6.

New Club.

The S. S. C. club met last evening with Miss Blanche Anderson at her home on North Sixth street. A very delightful evening was spent with games, music and quotations from the month's magazines. Those present were: Elizabeth Welmer, Mildred Pieper, May Bonds, Maggie Floegel, Katherine Tarrell, Marion Pieper, Ida Lee Stegar and Blanche Anderson.

The club will meet with Miss Marian Pieper next Friday evening, at her home corner 8th and Trimble streets.

Delightful Dance.

The younger society set gave a delightful dance last evening at the Elks' hall. About fifteen couples were present and the occasion was a most pleasant one.

About People.

Miss May Phelps, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Anne Rhea, of Nashville, Tenn., arrived this week and are the guests of Miss Henrietta Koger, of Jefferson street. Both are charming girls and very popular in Paducah where they have visited before. They will be the recipients of much social attention while here.

Miss Marie Scovel, of Montgomery, Ala., and Miss Frances Harris, of Nashville, are expected the latter part of the coming week to visit Miss Henrietta Koger.

Mrs. Victor Voris and little daughter Elsie Eunice left this week for a two week stay at Dawson Springs, Mo. Will Scott will leave Tuesday for Nashville, Tenn., to attend the commencement exercises at Ward's Seminary, where Miss Mary Scott will graduate. The recital will be held on Tuesday evening and the commencement on the 29th. Miss Mary Scott will be graduated both in music and the regular curriculum and is the second pupil to complete both courses together.

Daily Thought.
This age is what we make it.
—Bishop Woodcock.

It is more than a coincidence—the different views of “vox populi” to which the citizens of Paducah have been treated in a week. The Rev. D. C. Wright is responsible for the statement that public servants are often mistaken in what they believe is the voice of the people, heeding the loudest noise, and Alderman Earl Palmer says he distinctly has heard a brass band that too often the voice of the people is silent, while the demagogue is indulging his vocal bent? Following these warnings, Mr. W. A. Robinson, a business man of Louisville, who has had much to do with municipal affairs and public works in Louisville, although in no sense a politician, announces to the people of Paducah that only through a business organization, the Commercial Club, have the real business men of Louisville been able to raise their voices in the directing of public affairs. To him, a business man, of orderly mind, a good type of his class, this sort of an organization appeals, as the solution of the question, how the politicians and taxpayers can get together, working in harmony for the development of the community, instead of the one looking on in the spirit of criticism and other acting apparently in defiance. Such co-operation would accomplish the labor of years in a few months in Paducah, for Broadway is not far from the city hall, in reality, if only the voice from Broadway might be megaphoned through a medium such as Paducah is capable of acquiring.

The general council has offered the citizens an opportunity to lay before that body whatever information they possess about the manner in which saloons are operated—and this before licenses are renewed in June. This method of dealing with disorderly places does away with the tedious and delay of legal proceedings, as the moral weight of evidence will be sufficient to justify the refusal of a license, whereas it might be impossible to secure conviction in the police court. The plan also will save the cost of trying proprietors of disorderly places. Any saloon, that, either on account of the manner in which it is conducted or on account of its location is obnoxious to the neighborhood, may be refused a license. The general council, by considering the matter and affording the residents a chance to be heard before issuing the license, is doing no more than its duty, and citizens will be doing less than their duty if they do not assist the council.

Today three branches of the Presbyterian church are considering in their several general assemblies the advisability of uniting into one great organization. At the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, a resolution has been introduced, proposing a merger of all branches into the great Methodist church. The Baptist conventions north and south already have a plan for united operations in church work. The situation portends economy, harmony and progress in the advancement of the Christian religion in the future.

The death rate in Paducah has been reduced since the down town sewer was built. Isn't it fair to presume that a complete sewer system would still further reduce sickness and death?

It is possible that the government investigation of rebates may disclose some forms of graft unknown to railroad companies. It may precipitate some private inquisitions.

One fatal heat prostration has been reported in Toledo, Ohio, and a child was poisoned by a strawberry bug in Kentucky. Summer is upon us.

Regardless of opinion concerning the merits and defects of the rate bill, friends and enemies unite in saying: “President Roosevelt did it.”

While Americans take great pride and pleasure in being called “a strenuous people,” it is perhaps not generally appreciated that a great many injure themselves physically—wreck nervous systems, invite premature wrinkles, gray hairs and infirmities by the hurry, worry way in which they live, neglecting in many instances proper care of the body and letting the real pleasures of life escape as a forfeit. Unrestrained strenuousness means neurasthenia ultimately.

Neurasthenia is nerve-exhaustion and that means inefficiency of the body to carry on vital functioning. Nerve centres lag; debility ensues; listlessness and fatigue reign. Pain may be felt in the back; fullness or pressure at the top of the head; sleep is broken and without refreshment; digestion is weak and loss of appetite, constipation and distress after eating are the rule. The headache of neurasthenia is like a band around the head; ordinarily is worse in the morning and better towards the end of the day, and is probably the most common of all headaches which come for treatment.

Now, drugs do not help neurasthenia; that is admitted; and physicians have long been accustomed to send their neurasthenics away from the cities to the mountains, sea shore, abroad or anywhere to find new scenes and enjoy tranquil restoration. But that is expensive and there is a surer, quicker and better as well as less costly way—Osteopathy.

Osteopathy cures neurasthenia, which is but another name for nervousness, by stimulation to the nerves and the circulation.

Can you show me your satisfaction in a very few minutes why osteopathy is the sane rational cure for ALL diseases of the nerves. Come to see me at any time between the hours of 9 and 12 in the forenoon and 2 and 5 in the afternoon. Dr. G. B. Froage, 516 Broadway. Phone 1407.

WANT AND NEED.

There's a big difference between what a baby wants and what he needs. Deny him the one, give him the other. Most babies need Scott's Emulsion—it's the right thing for a baby. It contains a lot of strength-building qualities that their food may not contain. After a while they get to want it. Why? Because it makes them comfortable. Those dimples and round cheeks mean health and ease. Scott's Emulsion makes children easy; keeps them so, too.

HOTEL IS CLOSED
BY COUNTY JUDGE

Attachment Against Union Central by Owners.

Was Opened At Eleventh Street and Broadway By Sub Lessees of W. H. Parham.

CITIZENS' BANK WINS IN SUIT

The Union Central Hotel at Eleventh street and Broadway, subleased from W. H. Parham, was closed on an attachment this morning issued from Judge R. T. Lightfoot's quarterly court.

A suit was brought in this court by E. G. Boone, acting as agent for Loeb & Bloom, owners of the hotel. It was brought to recover $170, alleged to be due for rent. The hotel property originally was leased to W. H. Parham and he subleased it to railroad men. He desired to run the hotel as an experiment. Deputy Sheriff Clark Fortson and Gus Rogers served the papers this morning, and the hotel is closed, the lessees failing to give bond. The suit is brought against Parham, as the owners know nothing legally of the subsequent action of Parham in subleasing the property.

In Quarterly Court.

Attorneys J. C. Flournoy and T. B. Harrison yesterday filed suit in quarterly court against the Democrat Publishing company for $55, a balance of a $75 attorneys' fee.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot yesterday dismissed the charge of trespass against Joe Trimble, of the county. Trimble was charged with trespassing on the county road by obstructing a portion of it with a fence. The evidence showed the violation was unintentional.

Circuit Court.

The demurrer filed by the Paducah Wharftboat company in the action of John C. Curd against the Louisville & Evansville Packet company, and the Paducah Wharftboat company, was this morning sustained by Judge Wm. Reed. Curd sues for $340 damages to a printing office outfit which he shipped to Paducah from Louisville, claiming that the steamboat company and wharftboat company lost a lot of material, mixed the type and did considerable damage in transporting it here. The demurrer throws the case out as far as the wharftboat company is concerned.

In the case of Mrs. Effie L. Leigh against the Citizens' Savings bank to annul a mortgage made in 1892, verdict was returned in favor of the defendant.

Deeds Filed.

W. C. O'Bryan deeds to H. L. Harrison, for $60, property in the O'Bryan addition to the city.

Prizes Awarded in English
For Merit in Compositions.

The awards in the literary contest which was inaugurated several weeks ago by Miss Emma Morgan, teacher of English in the High school, were made yesterday afternoon.

The award for the best paper by the male division was made to Mr. Bell Nichols and the girl's prize went to Miss Annabel Acker.

Miss Morgan assigned a subject “Is the athletic field a good feature in school work.” The class numbered twenty.

Miss Acker's paper was selected without a contest, she receiving all votes, but Mr. Nichols secured the award after several votes. The first ballot resulted in a tie vote on the papers of Tate Collins, Clark Bondurant and Bell Nichols, and the second ballot gave the award to Mr. Nichols.

The judges were Col. John J. Doonan and Attorneys John G. Miller and E. W. Bagby.

BURNED HIS MONEY

HENRY GRACEY'S SAFE IN FRISCO CO OF LITTLE AVAIL.

Coins Melted and Run Together and Paper Money Reduced to Gray Ashes.

Mrs. William Marble, of this city, has sisters living in San Francisco and at Oakland, Cal., and has had most interesting accounts from them of the earthquake scenes and incidents through which they passed. The letters state that the newspaper accounts were not exaggerated in the least.

The home of Mrs. Gracey, the sister in San Francisco, is in Ellie street, and was not in the fire district, so was comparatively uninjured, but her son, Mr. Henry Gracey's business house on Market street was destroyed totally by fire. On recovering his safe he found the outer doors slightly warped but the inner ones were intact. When opened, however, all the paper money and papers in the safe were in ashes, and the silver money was melted together. The gold, however, was unharmed.

The home of another sister, Mrs. Jones, in Oakland, was greatly injured by the force of the earthquake every chandelier in the house was shaken down.

Miss Alberta Jones, who visited Mrs. Marble about two years ago, had a narrow escape. She was aroused by the first shock and sprang from her bed just as a large and heavy portrait of her mother hanging over the bed, fell on it. None of either family was injured.

Mrs. Marble has spent several years in California and is very familiar with every portion of San Francisco and vicinity that were destroyed. She necessarily was much alarmed about her relatives and it was some time before she could get even a telegram from them.

LEARN FROM NEWSPAPERS.

Bishop Fallows Holds Up the Press as a Great Teacher.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—Ministers were exhorted to take a lesson from the modern newspapers by Bishop Fallows in a sermon delivered at the evening session of the general council of the Reformed Episcopal church. The bishop said that the press in some respects had superseded the pulpit and now exercise many of the latter's functions. He said:

“The preacher of today can learn many valuable lessons from the modern newspaper. He should emulate it and catch its style. The ideal newspaper articles are sharp, short, pungent and to the point. The sermon should have all these characteristics.”

The bishop said the press has been the faithful ally of the pulpit in breaking down caste, in favoring humanitarian reforms and in advocating the rights of all.

Drops Dead and Prisoner Escapes.

St. Louis, May 19.—Charles Knight, employed as a private watch man by the Missouri Pacific railroad dropped dead yesterday morning, while on the way to the Eighth district police station with a negro boy he had arrested in the railroad yards. As Knight was passing the residence of James L. McCann, 210 South Ewing avenue, he sank to the ground and died in a few minutes. He lived at 2912 Laclede avenue with his daughter, Mrs. O'Neill. His wife, Mrs. Hannah Knight, was absent from the city, visiting friends in Olney, Ill. When Knight fell the prisoner ran away. It is supposed that the excitement of the arrest caused Knight's death.

BIG ENGINE JUMPS AND CARS FOLLOW

Freight Wreck at Cedar Bluff
Last Night.

Broken Flange Supposed to Be Cause of Accident in Which Five Cars
Are Damaged.

CREW ESCAPES BY JUMPING.

Another damaging wreck occurred on the Illinois Central railroad last night shortly before 11 o'clock at Cedar Bluff, three miles above Princeton, Ky. It was caused by a broken flange, it is presumed, and five cars with the engine left the track. The engine turned partly over and the cars were badly damaged, but fortunately no one was reported injured, the engine crew jumping and escaping with slight bruises.

The train was the first section of freight No. 154, northbound, and left Paducah before 7 o'clock for Central City. It was made up of over two dozen cars, pulled by engine No. 853, Engineer William Ashie, Fireman Tom Lam and Conductor Aldridge. At the north crossing, Cedar Bluff, the engine left the track. Both engineer and fireman jumped, it is said, and escaped. Five cars followed the ponderous locomotive off the tracks and were smashed up.

The Paducah wrecker was dispatched at 11:30 o'clock and succeeded in clearing the wreck before morning. The early train from Louisville, due at 3:40 o'clock, did not arrive until after 5 o'clock on account of the accident, and train No. 104 was held at Princeton several hours. The latter train passed Paducah at 1:20 o'clock.

Meager reports of the wreck could be secured from the local dispatcher's office but it is said the cars were loaded and the loss will amount to a great deal.

Slight Wreck.

Another derailment, entailing a slight loss, occurred Friday morning on the Louisville district of the road at Horse Branch. A freight train was derailed by a large fly wheel tipping off a flat car. The wrecker from Louisville was used in clearing the wreck. Little delay was occasioned.

Supply Car Here.

The supply car was in Paducah today supplying the local department with tools, supplies and incidentals needed. The car is in charge of a special officer and makes a tour of the road monthly. This month a great many hose racks and implements for working flower beds, lawns, etc., were brought through for the Louisville division.

Storekeeper Leaves.

Mr. John Trent, storekeeper for the Illinois Central, will leave tonight for Chicago to attend the third annual meeting of the Railroad Storekeepers' association. The meeting will begin on May 21 and continue three days.

Carman Injured.

R. D. Nance, a carman employed in Mr. E. Gaurieux's gang, was injured this morning while lifting a car by means of hydraulic jacks. The jack lever got away from him and struck him in the mouth. Four teeth were knocked out and his lips badly cut.

Mr. Liston Cross, who has been running out of Princeton, extra, is in the city to work out of Paducah regularly on the Illinois Central "slop" freight runs.

Mr. J. W. Qualls, clerk to Trainmaster L. E. McCabe, has gone home to Slaughter, Ky., for a few days to visit relatives.

Mr. R. R. Sutherland, of the I. C. caboose department, is out today and able to be at work after a several days' illness of malarial fever.

Mr. George Bondurant, foreman of the I. C. planing mill, went "frogging" last night and hooked 16 big frogs. He has a patent frog catcher and enjoys the sport immensely.

Thirty-five hundred stakes for the engineering department were sawed out yesterday and today in the local planing mill for use on the Hopkinsville district of the Illinois Central.

Mr. John Dugger, time keeper in the train department, Paducah district I. C. road, has returned from Louisville where he went on business.

STREET FLUSHER SENT ON APPROVAL

Board of Public Works Accept
Proposition of Makers.

Will Save Forty-Eight Cents a Block
for Cleaning Paved Streets
According to Agent.

MAY SET TELEPHONE POLES

The Board of Public Works has accepted a proposition from the St. Louis Street Cleaning and Flushing Machine company, to furnish the city of Paducah with a sample street flusher for trial, the city to bear no cost above the charges for freight to and from Paducah, in case the machine is not purchased.

A proposition was made the Board of Public Works at a called meeting held yesterday afternoon, and the machine and its merits explained. The agent for the St. Louis concern claims it will do better work than is being done by the present street cleaning department at a much cheaper figure. He claims it will sweep or clean a block for 18 cents, where it now costs 66 cents.

The flusher is built with a 300 gallon water reservoir and air compressor attachment. The water prevents dust and the air drives the dirt to the side of the street. The cost of the machine is $1,000 and $150 extra for the compressor.

The machine will be shipped at once for test, and an expert operator will be sent here to explain and demonstrate the possibilities of the flusher.

May Set Poles.

The Home Telephone company was granted permission to set poles in certain localities on the South Side. The matter of setting poles on Tennessee street was referred, pending a report from Engineer Washington.

The Southern Bitulithic company asked to borrow the city street roller to use in rolling Kentucky avenue. The city needs the roller and refused to loan it. This will necessitate the company sending to Nashville to secure a machine.

Dick Fowler Excursion.

The Dick Fowler will run a special excursion to Cairo tomorrow, Sunday, May 20, under auspices of Central Labor Union Carnival Committee. The boat will leave the wharf promptly at 9 a. m., arrive at Cairo at 12:30, and start on her return at 6 p. m., arriving at Paducah at 10 p. m. An orderly crowd, good music dancing, and ball game at Cairo between Paducah and Cairo teams, are the inducements to patrons of this delightful trip. Fare 75 cents round trip; children 40 cents.

IS DISEASE A CRIME?

Not so very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws, which, if understood, and implicitly followed, would result in the prevention of much of the sickness and suffering of humanity. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must, on a little sober reflection, appeal to every reasonable and intelligent individual as radically wrong.

Thousands suffer from contagious and infectious diseases, introduced and unconsciously contracted. Other thousands suffer and die of cancerous affections, the cause of which no medical man has yet been wise enough to ferret out and determine, and which can not, therefore, be avoided. Then too, many times stress of circumstances compel people to expose themselves to various disease-producing agencies, such as malaria, bad air in overheated factories, coal mines, and many other situations, and surely those who suffer therefrom should not be branded as criminals.

In so far as disease is contracted or brought on one's self from harmful causes, over-eating, intemperance, and other like indulgences and debauchery, we think, with our editor friend, that it should be regarded as little less than criminal. On the other hand, we think it would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes, criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, overworked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens which she is obliged to struggle along until she succumbs to the strain and over-exertion, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

The too frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weakness, derangements and debility which the mother has to bear and which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, never-ending work which she is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, overworked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Favorite Prescription" its full benefit. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, ante-version and retro-version of the uterus, or other displacements of the woman's organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription," they abstain from being very much on their feet, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much outdoor air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important.

It is Dr. Pierce's observation that many housewives suffer much in a weakened condition of their system from too close confinement in doors. Often the kitchen, where they spend most of their time, is ill ventilated and the bad air and overheating thereof act most unfavorably upon the woman's strength, until she finds herself suffering from various weaknesses attended by headache, bearing-down pains, or dragging-down sensations that are extremely hard to bear. A catarrhal, pelvic drain, of most debilitating and disagreeable nature, is a common symptom of the congested or inflamed condition of the lining membranes of the pelvic organs, attended, perhaps, with tenderness and not in these regions. Now, while all the foregoing disagreeable symptoms and sensations will generally yield to the faithful and somewhat persistent use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, to realize the very best results from its use, the patient must, as far as possible, abstain from over-work, worry, and too close confinement in doors.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household duties or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, the "Favorite Prescription" has pre-empted a most valuable supporting tone and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be resorted to if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, but is quite naturally and intelligently people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, that does not contain alcohol, and that too in large quantities. Furthermore, it is the only medicine of woman's special diseases, the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the great schools of medicine, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't forget that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for woman's weaknesses and delicate ailments, is not a patent or secret medicine, being the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated and graduated physician, engaged in the practice of his chosen specialty—that of diseases of women—that its ingredients are printed in plain English on every bottle wrapper; that it is the only medicine especially designed for the cure of woman's diseases that contains no alcohol, and the only one that has a professional endorsement worth more than all the so-called "testimonials" ever published for other medicines.

An invitation is extended by Dr. Pierce to every sick and ailing woman to consult him by letter. There is absolutely no charge or fee for this. Every letter is carefully considered, fully answered, and its statements held as strictly private and confidential. Address as above directed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good."

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page Illustrated Common Sense Medical Advisor will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

UNITE CHURCHES SAYS FAIRBANKS

Speech Before General Assembly at Birmingham.

Dr. Gross Alexander, of Louisville, Elected Book Editor—Other Vacancies.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SESSIONS

Birmingham, Ala., May 19.—The feature of the session of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, was the address by Vice President Fairbanks, fraternal delegate from the North Methodist Episcopal church.

Among other things he said: "I cannot refrain from expressing and emphasizing the hope which those who have preceded me in this brotherly mission have ventured to express, that the two great branches of Methodism in America may be consolidated into one mighty church, not in sentiment and in purpose alone, but in organization as well. I give utterance to this wish upon my own responsibility, though it is shared by many of my brethren. With me it is not a desire born of this kindly mission, but is one I have long cherished; one which time has but strengthened and which your hearty welcome has but quickened. The trend of events seems to me to lead to ultimate union."

Dr. Gross Alexander made the address before the District Educational Association in Paducah several years ago. He then held a professorship at Vanderbilt University.

RABBIT FARM

Will Be Started Immediately by M. G. Sale.

A rabbit farm is the latest addition to Paducah's fast multiplying enterprises. The farm will be located near Wallace park and will be one of the biggest of its kind in the state before the year is over. M. G. Sale is the owner of the farm and although he started rabbit raising as a fad, sees that it might be made profitable and is going into the business to make it pay. Mr. Sale is employed in the Illinois Central shops and resides on South Fifth street. He started his rabbit raising several months ago. They multiplied so fast until he has no room in his yard for them and finds it necessary to move to larger quarters.

"I have bought property near Wallace park and will move my rabbits out today and tomorrow," he stated this morning. "I now have over 100 rabbits and intend to go into the business for what money there is in it."

MUST BE STRANGER.

Stole Chair From Police Commissioner Clark.

Petty thievery is busying local police and the latest victim is Police Commissioner Mann Clark. Last night some one stole his favorite rocking chair from his front porch. Mr. Clark resides at Sixth and Ohio streets, and the house sets out on the pavement. The porch is not railed in and it was an easy matter to seize the chair and take it away. Commissioner Clark has offered a reward for the return of his chair and conviction of the thief. He wants to see who had the nerve to steal a chair from a police commissioner.

INCENDIARY BLAZE.

Partially Destroys Old Blacksmith Shop on Eleventh Street.

The Nos. 1, 3 and 4 fire companies were called to Eleventh and Burnett streets this morning at 2:30 o'clock to extinguish a fire in a vacant blacksmith shop building. The building was a frame and had been unoccupied for weeks. It is presumed the blaze was of incendiary origin, and the flames had gained considerable headway when the firemen arrived. The walls were saved. The property is owned by Mrs. Jessie Polz, and is not insured. The loss will amount to less than $100.

The Savior of a City

(Original.)

Among the early followers of William Penn to this country was a young couple who called themselves Wehrenstein. They showed a great difference in refinement from the other settlers, the wife especially indicating by her manner and a certain fineness of physical texture that she had come from the better classes. That they were German was indicated by their name.

That was a period when Europe was in continual warfare, the main causes being the issues between the two religious divisions, Catholics and Protestants. In one of those wars the capital of one of the principal German states was invested by the emperor, who represented the Catholic party. The burghers awaited the enemy's attack behind their breastworks, knowing that their existence both as individuals and as a people depended on their successful defense, for in those days it was not uncommon on capturing a city to put the inhabitants to the sword.

As soon as the advancing force came within striking distance the besieged poured a terrible fire in their faces, but without the effect of arresting their onward march. Moving on to the very ramparts, they carried them at the point of their pikes. The leader of the defenders was killed, and all seemed lost when a young officer, grasping a flag that lay on the ground beside the dead body of the man who had borne it and raising it aloft, cried out to his comrades to meet death like men, since they must die, and not wait to be butchered. The effect was magical. Forming as best they could about their new leader, they dashed forward with the fury of despair. The enemy, who were climbing over the breastworks, were checked, then recoiling gave way and clambered back over the walls and fled down the declivity.

The city was saved. But there was a damper on the rejoicings. The young officer who had turned the tide, who had given the people their lives, had fallen desperately wounded. He was put on a stretcher and carried to a hospital, where the doctors did what they could to save him. This was not much; the question of his life lay with nature. He was so far gone as to be unconscious, and they finally left him, expecting that he would soon die.

Meanwhile the city was ringing with the sufferer's praise, and as the surgeons went out they were besieged with anxious inquiries regarding him, to which they could only respond with out comfort. The unconscious hero lay in a stupor for hours, then groaned and opened his eyes. Near him sat a young girl who was evidently a nurse.

"Is the city saved?" he cried, with such vigor as he could command.

"It is, and you are considered its savior."

The man closed his eyes again and fell back into unconsciousness. Six weeks later a ceremony was held at the palace. The sovereign gave an audience to the hero, who had recovered, at which a gold medal was to be presented him on one side of which was his name, on the other an inscription—"To the savior of the city." As the prince was about to bestow the honor the girl who had nursed the soldier back to life stepped forward from behind the throne and said:

"Sire, I ask the honor of pinning this medal on our hero's breast."

"It is granted," replied the prince. "You have been one of the most faithful of those ladies of our court who volunteered to nurse our soldiers."

As the girl attached the decoration it was plain to all present who saw the loveliness in the eyes of both her and the soldier that they were lovers. The young man by virtue of his heroism was permitted to spend some time with his former nurse, who he now discovered was a connection of the prince. There is a great glow of blood, and the couple knew that even the savior of a city could not aspire to the hand of a princess. But the young man was as daring in love as in war, and when the girl told him that separation from him would be far worse than death he said:

"Are you willing to resign your rank for me?"

"I am."

"Then go with me to that far country beyond the Atlantic, where those who would be free from our European injustices are making themselves new homes. There live unknown as a princess of the blood. But the new world is a barbarous country full of danger. Instead of the flattery of courtiers you will hear the war whoop of savages. Choose."

"I have chosen. I will go with you."

When a few months later a plainly dressed bride descended from a ship and stepped on to the dock at Philadelphia those looking on were struck with the high born air that clung to her even in the wilds of America. The couple called themselves Wehrenstein, which was an assumed name. Nothing of the hero who had saved the city remained to the woman, except a bearing neither could lay off. To the Quakers they were simply German immigrants who had come, like most of the rest of the population, to escape either persecution for conscience's sake or to hide some disgrace. Since the Wehrensteins seemed to have no strong religious prejudices, the former view in their case for awhile remained, though it made no difference in the treatment they received. When some years after their arrival the man saved the inmates of a blockhouse from massacre by Indians he was considered a hero. But no one knew that he had saved a city.

CHIEF HAS SCHEME OF POLICE SYSTEM

Would Install Device by Which Patrolmen Report.

Instrument Shows Number and Location of Telephone in Use and Can't Be Tricked.

HOPES FOR HEARTY SUPPORT.

There is one thing I intend to do by which I expect to perfect my police system, James Collins, chief of police, declared, "and this I will do just as soon as the police question in Paducah has been settled."

"Two years ago I inaugurated the system of police reporting now in effect, and it has proven a success as far as it can, but I am not satisfied. Since my visit to Hot Springs, Ark., where I met chiefs of police from all over the country during the annual convention a few weeks ago, I have become partial to a telephone recording system of reporting, and will ask the municipal boards to permit me to install one. It will cost the city little, under $100, I understand, and if the city doesn't buy it, I will get it some other way, even if I have to dig down into my jeans and buy it myself."

Chief Collins is heart and soul in his police force and is only waiting to see if the council and board of fire and police commissioners are going to "get together" in the matter of policing the town. The legislative law compelling cities of the second class to have a minimum of 20 police officers will go into effect next month. It is said that the commissioners do not care about adding this extra number of officers on the town, but will do with a lesser number—the same employed before the council cut the force by ordinance. Chief Collins thinks that the commissioners and municipal boards will effect some kind of an agreement and will then set about to install his improvement.

"My system of reporting now is simple," Chief Collins continued. "Patrolmen report to headquarters every hour of the day and night. They have regular rounds to make and arrive at certain points hourly. They report by the nearest phone, but we have no way to tell if they are at the street corner or location they claim. By means of this relay system I propose to install I will do away with all doubts. It will register the men exactly where they are, and no tricks can be played on the superior officers at the hall then."

"I saw the system in Hot Springs and it works like a charm. The device is simple, a sort of relay recording instrument which is cut in on the telephone line by means of a ring or switch. This records the number of the telephone which the speaker is using, and there is no way of getting around it. The machine is infallible, and I liked it so well that I have thought it all out and expect to perfect my system here by means of its installation. I understand it will cost about $90."

Billy's Tenderfoot

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Copyright by S. S. McClure Co.

DURING one spring of the early seventies Billy Knapp ran a species of road house or hotel at the crossing of the Deadwood and Big Horn trails through Custer valley. Travelers changing from one route to the other frequently stopped there overnight. He sold accommodations for man and beast, comprising plenty of whisky and plenty of hay. That was the best any one could say of it. The hotel was of logs, two stories, with partitions of sheeting to insure a certain privacy of sight if not of sound; had three beds and a number of bunks and boasted of a woman cook, one of the first in the hills. Billy did not run it long. He was too restless. The personnel of the establishment consisted of Billy and the woman already mentioned and an ancient pistol by the name of Charley. The latter wore many firearms and had a good deal to say, but had never, as Billy expressed it, "made good." This in the west could not have been for lack of opportunity. His functions were those of general factotum.

One evening Billy sat chair tilted against the logs of the hotel, waiting for the stage. By and by it drew in. Charley hobbled out, carrying buckets of water for the horses. The driver flung the reins from him with the lordly insolence of his class, descended slowly and swaggered to the barroom for his drink. Billy followed to serve it.

"Luck!" said the driver and crooked his elbow.

"Anything new?" queried Billy.

"Nope."

"Held up?"

"Nope."

That exhausted the situation. The two men puffed silently for a moment at their pipes. In an instant the driver turned to go.

"I got you a tenderfoot," he remarked casually. "I reckon he's outside."

"Guess I ambles forth and sees what fer a tenderfoot it is," replied Billy, hastening from behind the bar.

The tenderfoot was seated on a small trunk just outside the door. As he held his hat in his hands Billy could see his domelike bald head. Beneath the dome was a little pink and white face, and below that were narrow, sloping shoulders, a flat chest and bumpy legs. He wore a light check suit and a flannel shirt whose collar was much too large for him. Billy took this all in while passing. As the driver climbed to the seat the hotel keeper commented.

"Say, Hen," said he, "would you stuff it or put it under a glass case?"

"I'd serve it a lay too loose," replied the driver briefly, and he brought his long lash 8-shaped across the four startled backs of his horses.

Billy turned to a reinspection of his guest and met a deprecating smile.

"Can I get a shakedown here for tonight?" he inquired in a high, piping voice.

"You kin," replied Billy shortly and began to howl for Charley.

That patriarch appeared around the corner, as did likewise the cook, a ward movements of the hands. He answered in monosyllables.

Billy ate expansively and earnestly. Toward the close of the meal Charley slipped into place beside him. Charley was out of humor and found the meat cold.

"—yore soul, Nell," he cried, "this yere ain't fitten fer a hog to eat!"

The girl did not mind, nor did Billy. It was the country's mode of speech. The stranger dropped his knife.

"I don't wonder so 'don't like it, then," said he with a funny little flare of anger.

"Meanin' what?" shouted Charley threateningly.

"You shore mustn't speak to a lady that way," replied the stranger firmly. In his little piping voice.

Billy caught the point and exploded in a mighty guffaw.

"Billy fer you!" he cried, slapping his knee. "Struck pyrites"—he pronounced it "ple rights"—"fer shore that trip, Charley!"

The girl, too, laughed, but quietly. She was a little touched, though just this winter she had left Bismarck because the place would have no more of her.

In the face of Billy's approval the old man fell silent.

About midnight the four inmates of the frontier hotel were awakened by a tremendous racket outside. The stranger arose, fully clothed, from his bunk and peered through the narrow open window. A dozen horses were standing grouped in charge of a single mounted man, indistinguishable in the dark.

Out of the open door a broad band of light streamed from the saloon, whence came the noise of voices and of boots tramping about.

"It is Black Hank," said Billy, at his elbow. "Black Hank and his outfit. He hitches to this yere snubbin' post occasional."

Black Hank in the hills would have translated to Jesse James farther south.

The stranger turned suddenly energetic.

"Don't you make no fight?" he asked.

"Fight?" said Billy, wondering.

"Fight! Co'se not. Hank ain't plunderin' me none. He jest ambles along and helps himself, and leaves the dust fer it every shot. I jest lays low and lets him operate. I never has no dealin' with him, understand. He jest nat'rally waites in and plants his grub hooks on what he needs. I doesn't know anything about it. I'm dead asleep."

He bestowed a shadowy wink upon the stranger.

Below, the outlaws moved here and there.

"Billy!" shouted a commanding voice. "Billy Knapp!"

The hotel keeper looked perplexed.

"Now what's he tellin' me fer?" he asked of the man by his side.

"Billy," shouted the voice again, "come down here, you slyvass. I want to palaver with you."

"All right, Hank," replied Billy.

He went to his "room" and buckled on a heavy belt, then descended the steep stairs.

The barroom was lighted and filled with men. Some of them were eating and drinking; others were strapping provisions into portable form. Against the corner of the bar a tall figure of a man leaned, smoking—a man lithe, active and muscular, with a keen, dark face and black eyebrows which met over his nose. Billy walked directly to this man.

"What is it?" he inquired shortly. "This yere ain't in th' agreement."

"I know that," replied the stranger. "Then leave yore dust and vamoose."

"My dust is there," said Black Hank, placing his hand on a buckskin bag at his side, "and you're paid, Billy Knapp. I want to ask you a question. Standin' Rock has sent $50,000 to Buck Tail, the messenger went through here today. Have you seen him?"

"Narry messenger," replied Billy in relief. "Stage goes empty."

Charley had crept down the stairs and into the room.

"What 'n blazes you doin' yere, you rambaloo jitt?" asked Billy truculently.

"That stage ain't what you calls empty," observed Charley, unmoved.

A light broke on Billy's mind. He remembered the valise which the stranger had so carefully guarded, and, though his common sense told him that an inoffensive noncombatant, such as his guest, would hardly be chosen as express messenger, still the bare possibility remained.

"You're right," he assented carelessly; "thar is one tenderfoot who knows as much of ridin' express as a pig does of war."

"I notice he's almighty particular 'bout that thar carping of his'n," insisted Charley.

The man against the counter had lost nothing of the scene. Billy's denial, his hesitation, his half truth, all looked suspicious to him. With one swift round sweep of the arm he had Billy covered. Billy's arms shot over his head without the necessity of a command.

The men ceased their occupations and gathered about. Scenes of this sort were too common to elicit comment or arouse excitement. They knew perfectly the laissez-faire relations which obtained between the two westerners.

"Now," said Black Hank angrily in a low tone, "I want to know why you tried that monkey game."

Billy, wary and unafraid, replied that he had tried no game, that he had forgotten the tenderfoot for a moment and that he did not believe the latter would prove to be the sought for express messenger.

One of the men, at a signal from his leader, relieved Billy's belt of considerable weight. Then the latter was permitted to sit on a cracker box. Two more mounted the little stairs. In a moment they returned to report that the upper story contained no human beings, strange or otherwise, except the girl, but that there remained a small trunk. Under further orders they dragged the trunk down into the barroom. It was broken open and found to contain clothes of the plainsman's cut, material and state of wear, a neatly folded Mexican saddle showing use and a rawhide girth.

"Tenderfoot!" said Black Hank contemptuously.

The outlaws had already scattered outside to look for the trail. In this they were unsuccessful, reporting indeed that not the faintest sign indicated escape in any direction.

Billy knew his man. The tightening of Black Hank's close knit brows meant but one thing. One does not gain chieftainship of any kind in the west without propping ascendancy with acts of ruthless decision. Billy leaped from his cracker box with the suddenness of the puma, seized Black Hank firmly about the waist, whirled him into a sort of shield and began an earnest struggle for the instant possession of the outlaw's drawn revolver. It was a gallant attempt, but unsuccessful. In a moment Billy was plucked to the floor and Black Hank was rubbing his abraded forehead. After that the only question was whether it should be rope or bullet.

Now, when Billy had gone downstairs the stranger had wasted no more time at the window. He had in his possession $50,000 in greenbacks which he was to deliver as soon as possible to the Buck Tail agency in Wyoming. The necessary change of stage lines had forced him to stay overnight at Billy Knapp's hotel.

The messenger seized his bag and softly ran along through the canvas partitioned rooms wherein Billy slept to a narrow window which he had already noticed gave out almost directly into the pine woods. The window was of oiled paper, and its catch baffled him. He knew it should slide back, but it refused to slide for him. He did not dare to break the paper because of the crackling noise. A voice at his shoulder startled him.

"I'll show you," whispered the red checked girl.

She was wrapped loosely in a blanket, her hair falling about her shoulder and her bare feet showing beneath her coverings. The little man suffered at once an agony of embarrassment in which the thought of his errand was lost. It was recalled to him by the girl.

Machine Prints Tickets.

A blue trip slip for a three-cent fare, a pink trip slip for a five-cent fare, a pink trip slip for a five-cent fare. The tessera graph has been invented by Robert Tagg, Piscielli, of Florence, Italy, to do away with the present practice whereby thousands of tickets for all stations are printed in advance and kept in stock, and also to register automatically the amounts cashed. The machine prints each separate ticket in one operation from a strip of thick paper, the ticket issued bearing the name of the issuing station, the destination, date of issue, ticket number, class, kind, price, the company's monogram, etc.; and on the reverse any service indication or commercial advertisement as may be most suitable to each company. An exact duplicate is issued simultaneously for checking purposes. The machine can print 400 different kinds of tickets. No tickets can be issued until the inspector in charge, on opening the ticket office in the morning, has freed the machine and, as the case may be, has brought back all the totals to zero.

A Compliment From Mexico.

Such a nation (the United States) with these antecedents, composed of an imposing aggregation of vigorous and manly citizens, and with leaders of the type of their present president, is destined to fulfill and I believe will fulfill, the noblest and most beautiful of the missions of civilization, in the critical epoch of history through which the present generations of earth are passing; recognizing the principles and the free exercise of democracy while maintaining tranquility and order, and serving as an example of material and intellectual development in multiplying, through intercourse, the material wealth and the wholesome ideas of the world; in compelling the respect of its rights in order that its evolution may advance triumphant, and at the same time, in respecting, in a manner corresponding to its grandeur and which its honor demands, the rights of the rest of the civilized nations of the earth.—Gen. Bernardo Reyes, Mexico's Minister of War.

Denatured Alcohol.

Tests that have been made show that alcohol if furnished as cheaply as it could be supplied, if it were free from tax, would prove a serious competition of gasoline for motors and small engines. The tests have shown that alcohol containing as much as 15 per cent. of water can be used in such engines and that fully as much power can be obtained from a gallon of alcohol as from a gallon of gasoline. In Germany, where there is tax free alcohol for industrial purposes, over 6,000 alcohol engines are said to be in successful use. For lighting purposes, it has been demonstrated that an alcohol lamp, with the use of an incandescent mantle, gives an excellent light and will burn twice as long with a quart of alcohol as a kerosene lamp giving the same light and using a like quantity of oil.

CANAL TYPE

Is Affected by Earthquake at San Francisco.

That the earthquake which destroyed San Francisco was an important factor in determining the vote of the senate committee on interoceanic canals, in favor of a sea-level type, is apparent from the fact that a feature of the majority report is a discussion of the effect such an earth wave might have on locks and dams. The majority report in favor of a sea-level canal was submitted yesterday by Senator Kittredge.

KILLS MAD DOG.

R. J. Patterson Uses Pitch Fork on Animal in Alley.

Mr. Robert J. Patterson, of 1122 Jefferson street, killed a mad dog last evening after an exciting fight with the dog. He was returning home after a drive and was in his alley preparing to stable his horse. The dog attacked him in the alley. Mr. Patterson used a pitch fork and after an exciting fight lasting ten minutes or more, succeeded in killing the dog.

Significance of Many Eruptions.

St. Helena in Iceland is in full eruption and Stromboli, near Messina, has begun to emit solid material. Vesuvius has not ceased its flow of ashes and cinders, although in reduced volume, and one of two eruptions are reported from Oceanica. Whatever bearing these phenomena may have upon earthquakes, for many years the earth has not emitted so much gaseous and solid matter. Unusual activity is indicated and where the emission of material from the molten interior is so great, a shifting of the crust and subcrust seems inevitable. Where that shifting is appreciable, earthquakes follow. Slight shocks such as are experienced in San Francisco daily have been felt in Japan almost daily for three years. The Calabrian shocks, in Italy like the San Francisco disaster, were caused by an appreciable shifting. Where next such a disaster may occur and when, science cannot reveal. The eruptions and consequent shifting of the crust will continue until normal conditions are restored in the heart of the sphere, which the scientists say should be very soon.

Dangers of Defective Plumbing.

Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs of contagious diseases to which the human system readily succumbs.

Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the home and enters the apartments through defective fixtures.

If in doubt, consult us regarding the piping and replacing defective fixtures with "Standard" Porcelain Enameled Ware—acknowledged as the best sanitary equipment.

NO EVIDENCE

Found Against Two Men Suspected of Odgen Burglary.

Gus Smith and James McKinney, the two men arrested near Bandana Thursday afternoon by the means of bloodhounds, for the alleged robbery of the Odgen Landing postoffice and merchandise store of Postmaster Gus McGee, have been released, there being no evidence against them other than the fact that they were traced down by the hound. The men claim that they know nothing of the robbery and had not been near Odgen. They have gone to work in a saw mill near Bandana and will remain in that section as long as work lasts, they say.

normal, with a slight increase over last year.

Bradstreet's Weekly Report.

Retail trade has expanded with warmer weather and the settlement of labor troubles. Jobbing reorder business is in full seasonal volume. Fall orders are equal to and in many lines in excess of last year this period. Industry, except in some sections of the soft coal field, is as active as ever before and the return tide of currency from the country is evidenced by increasing western bank deposits and perceptibly easier money. Spring wheat and corn are doing well, while oats are thin. Building activity makes for a large sale of lumber, hardware, paints, glass and other material. Prices show great steadiness at close to record levels. Collections tend to improve. Wheat including flour exports for week 2,717,000 bushels against 1,513,000 this week last year; July 1 to date 118,465,000 bushels against 56,005,000 bushels last year. Corn exports for week 1,090,000 bushels against 1,638,000 year ago.

A Positive Necessity.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I can cheerfully recommend it as the best medicine for bruises ever sent to the afflicted. It has now become a positive necessity upon myself.

Sanitation Hints.

Good sanitation for 1906 should be your motto.

Clean your premises, keep them clean and sprinkle with lime.

Screen your doors and windows and keep out the housefly, the most dangerous of pests. It carries disease and infection.

The most effective money spent in advertising Paducah will be that spent in cleaning and draining it. Every citizen can help to do this, in their own way.

No mosquitoes, no malaria.

A clean city no danger of yellow fever and typhoid.

ODD FUNERAL MARCH.

Navy Stirred Up by Report That "Always in the Way" Was Played at Burial.

Washington, May 19.—Instructions have gone out from the navy department to Capt. Drake, of the battleship Wisconsin, on the Asiatic station, directing him to make a report on the incident wherein Capt. Hiram L. Bearss ordered the band to play "Always in the Way" at the funeral of Private Lawrence, of marines, several weeks ago.

It was not until someone demonstrated to acting Secretary Newberry the theme of the song, which involved a plaintive wail that one is without anyone to love and guide him, that Mr. Newberry took action. The music, judging by the whistled rendition of the song in Mr. Newberry's office today, is not so bad, but the theme and title are considered most inappropriate for a well-regulated funeral.

NEW EXPERIENCE.

Judge Sanders Thought He Had Sold Every Kind of Animal.

"For the first time in my entire experience as a police judge I have ordered a jennet sold to satisfy a fine assessed in court for a breach of ordinance," Police Judge Sanders declared.

"I have sold horses, cows, mules and every class of swine and cattle except, possibly a jennet. I have sold jacks and I thought I had experienced troubles with them all, but this morning a new one came before me."

The jennet was arrested several nights ago and has been in the pound since awaiting the claim of its owner, but no one showed up.

The sale will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the market house by James Collins, chief of police. The fine assessed against the animal for roaming at large is $5 and costs.
